

THE COURIER-GAZETTE.

TWICE-A-WEEK . . . TUESDAY AND SATURDAY.

TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

ROCKLAND, MAINE, SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1904.

VOL. 59. NO. 17

Rockland, So. Thomaston
and Owl's Head Railway

5 PER CENT
SINKING FUND
GOLD BONDS

APPLY TO
C. E. Meserve, President,
Rockland, Me.

OR
James H. Dalton, Treasurer,
8 Congress St., Boston.

FEDERAL TRUST CO., BOSTON,
TRUSTEES.

ROCKLAND NAT. BANK, ROCKLAND,
DEPOSITARIES.

Correspondents will receive prompt attention.

R. S. Edwards

Consulting and Analytical Chemist
I make a specialty of all chemical problems involving the analysis of water, lime, cement, fuels, oil testing, and the assaying of minerals.
CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED.
Box 580 Rockland, Me. 14

AS LEWISTON SEES IT.

The announcement of the candidacy of the Hon. B. M. Fernald of Poland for the Republican nomination for Governor has created some interest here. Androscoggin county in all probability will send a delegation favorable to Mr. Fernald, although the announcement of his candidacy has come at such a late hour that he cannot expect to win. He will, however, be in line for the nomination and this is perhaps the reason why he is in the field at the present time. It is thought here that the Hon. William T. Cobb of Rockland is practically certain of the nomination.—Lewiston letter in Boston Sunday Globe.

Escaped an Awful Fate.

Mr. H. Haggins of Melbourne, Fla., writes, "My doctor told me I had consumption and nothing could be done for me. I was given up to die. The offer of a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, induced me to try it. Results were startling. I am now on the road to recovery and owe all to Dr. King's New Discovery. It surely saved my life." This great cure is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by W. H. Kittredge, Druggist. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free.

Mr. Watterson describes Mr. Hearst as "a figure of speech." He might have added as picturesquely "or a display head line."—Nashville Banner.

The Courier-Gazette goes into a larger number of families in Knox county than any other paper published.

The Courier-Gazette.
TWICE-A-WEEK.
ALL THE HOME NEWS.

Published every Tuesday and Saturday morning from 409 Main Street, Rockland, Maine.

NEWSPAPER HISTORY
The Rockland Gazette was established in 1846. In 1874 the Courier was established, and consolidated with the Gazette in 1882. The Free Press was established in 1850, and in 1891 changed its name to the Tribune. These papers consolidated March 17, 1897.

BY THE ROCKLAND PUBLISHING CO.

Subscriptions $2 per year in advance; $2.50 if paid at the end of the year; single copies three cents.
Advertising rates based upon circulation and very reasonable.
Communications upon topics of general interest are solicited.
Entered at the postoffice at Rockland for circulation at second-class postal rates.

VIRELAND-BENJAMIN, Special Advertising Agency, 150 Nassau street, N. Y., representative for foreign advertising.

If we cannot live so as to be happy, let us at least live so as to deserve happiness.—Fichte.

Boston Globe: Japanese names are hard to understand, but if you remember that the termination yama means mountain, shima means island (as in Tusuhima), saki is cape; nada, sea; ko, lake, and hama, shore (as in Yokohama), maybe that will help some.

During the past year the number of ships equipped with the Marconi system of wireless telegraphy has been increased from 25 to 54, and efforts are now being made to increase the number of land stations. In European countries the governments have been hostile to the new system, but in Canada arrangements have been made for several stations on the St. Lawrence for the sake of safety in navigation.

During the last few days advice has been received that an enormous tonnage of exhibits is now en route to St. Louis. Within two weeks the freight will begin to arrive on the grounds in great bulk. Director of Exhibits F. J. Y. Skiff says the fine arts display of France has left Paris, and the last of the Philippine exhibits are in transit. The archeological collection from Mexico is now moving toward St. Louis. It will include Aztec relics which heretofore never have been permitted to leave Mexico.

CANNOT DEFEAT COBB.

The Opposition of Manley Et Als Not Strong Enough To Do This, Thinks An Augusta Correspondent.

The Augusta correspondent of the Boston Herald develops some especially interesting material in the following article, which appeared in last Sunday's issue:

State politics begin to loom up, the most important matter under discussion being that of the next Republican nominee for the governorship. Lately there have been some new developments along this line, and among these is the announcement of the candidacy of the Hon. Bert M. Fernald of Poland. Months ago it was thought that Mr. Fernald would be a candidate, but as no formal notice was given to that effect the politicians began to think he had retired from the field. His formal announcement, accompanied by an address to the Republican voters of the state, came last week as something of a surprise, therefore.

Several reasons for this late action upon the part of Mr. Fernald are given. The one most generally accepted is that he is in the race at the instigation of Hon. Joseph H. Manley of this city, who is himself a candidate. The Hon. William T. Cobb of Rockland has for some time been the leading candidate, and it has come to be regarded that Mr. Cobb is quite certain of the nomination.

Mr. Manley's friends know that that gentleman cannot win the race, and it is believed that he, as well as some of his supporters, desire to defeat Mr. Cobb. It is Cobb against the field. It is generally understood here that it is the plan of Mr. Manley's friends in Androscoggin county to give Mr. Fernald a complimentary vote, if they can get a delegation from his county, then turn his strength over to Mr. Manley, who, in turn will place it in the interests of Col. Prescott of Biddeford.

Mr. Manley seemed to think all he would have to do was to announce that he was a candidate and the politicians would rally to his standard. Mr. Cobb came into the field and every effort was made to induce him to withdraw. There was an interview held at Brunswick between Mr. Cobb and Mr. Manley, in which arguments and appeals were employed in vain to persuade Mr. Cobb to declare that he would not be a candidate against Mr. Manley. It was, however, of no avail.

Last winter, during the session of the legislature, Mr. Manley told one of the most prominent Republicans in the state that he had decided not to be a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, but had decided to return to the state senate. About ten days later Mr. Manley called again upon this same gentleman and told him to disregard their former conversation, for he had made up his mind to continue to be a candidate. Perhaps no one can definitely say just what caused this change in the attitude of Mr. Manley, but it is surmised that certain politicians in the western part of the state persuaded him to remain in the contest.

These gentlemen, it is rumored, had approached Mr. Cobb and asked him for a pledge that in the event of a vacancy in the United States Senate when the legislature was not in session, he would, if governor, appoint one of certain men to fill the vacancy. Mr. Cobb would make no such pledge, and immediately these gentlemen began to plan to defeat him in convention. Mr. Manley cannot get a solid delegation from his own county. It is said, indeed, it is doubtful if he can get one from his own city of Augusta. The Hon. William T. Haines of Waterville, ex-attorney general of the state and at the present time a member of the legislature, will divide the delegation with Mr. Manley. Mr. Haines is a candidate for the nomination for governor but his position is different from that of Mr. Manley's.

Gov. Hill is in the office of Kennebec county and the close of his present term will have held the office of governor for four years, the time which it is customary for one man to fill that position. Gen. Haines a long time ago announced that when it came to Kennebec's turn to have the nomination, he should be a candidate, but he frankly said he would not be a candidate unless some other man from his own county came into the field. This week Gen. Haines has sent out letters to his friends all over the state, in which he says he is now in the contest to win, and asks for support, pledging himself if elected to use his best efforts to give an honest, economical and impartial state government.

The Hon. Flavius O. Beal of Bangor is also a candidate for the nomination and is regarded to be in the race much the same way that Mr. Fernald is—to help Mr. Manley if possible, and if not, to assist in defeating Mr. Cobb. It is now generally regarded that if Mr. Cobb is not nominated, Col. Prescott will be. Those who are opposed to Mr. Cobb think if he cannot be nominated upon the first ballot he will not win; others do not look upon it in this light. They know that while Mr. Manley and others may be able to induce men to support them, they cannot transfer the support of these men just as they might wish to do to some other candidate.

It is well known that some of the support of Mr. Manley, when it is found that he cannot be nominated, will be transferred to Mr. Cobb. It has been given out lately that York and Cumberland counties are solid in support of Col. Prescott. This is not true. York county may be solidly behind the gentleman from Biddeford, but there are Cobb men in Cumberland county, who will see that he has delegates from some of their towns. The better opinion of well informed politicians at the present time is that Mr. Cobb will eventually win. He is a cultured, fearless, honest man, with no blemishes upon either his public or his private record, and the longer he has been before his party as a candidate the stronger he has become.

If the Baby is Cutting Teeth.
Be sure and use that old well-tried remedy Mrs. WINGLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

MISS ENID SHAW, A WASHINGTON DEBUTANTE.

Miss Shaw, daughter of Secretary Shaw, whose coming out occurs this month, is the only debutante from the cabinet families for years past. She is a well educated young woman and is literary in her tastes. She is described as a large, handsome girl of easy manners and unconscious pose.

Walking On the Ice.

A. H. Newbert Tells How He Tramped From Deer Isle To Belfast In The Winter of 1875.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:

A correspondent of the Lewiston Journal says:

"The winter of 1861 was noted for being one of the coldest, and, in fact, it was the coldest one, in the century. The coldest day of the winter was Friday, Feb. 25, and it was known as cold Friday. There had been a heavy storm of light, fine snow. It cleared off cold, and the wind blew a perfect gale, thus making the cold more fearful. The air was filled with snow so thick one could see only a rod or two in any direction. Men who were obliged to be on the road perished and were found frozen as hard as marble statues. A very few travelers survived the ordeal. But few had thermometers in those days to tell how cold it really was, but what few there were registered 40 to 50 below zero in Androscoggin, and in Aroostook county it was even lower. Penobscot bay was frozen over so solid that Sam Randall of Vinalhaven took a horse and sleigh and, together with the Hon. Martin Kirt, who was the representative to the Legislature from Vinalhaven, cruised from Vinalhaven to North Haven, then to Saddle Island, then to Camden and thence across country to Augusta, where he left Kirt and returned to Vinalhaven again safely. Portland harbor and Boston harbor were frozen over solid. Thousands of the Boston people availed themselves of the fact, and the ice on the harbor was covered with skaters."

The above may be true as regards the severity of the winter of 1861, but that part referring to the trip of Mr. Kirt from Vinalhaven to Augusta is a pure fiction. During the winter of 1874-5 I was teaching at Northwest Harbor, Deer Isle, the only winter I can recall when Penobscot bay was entirely frozen over, the precise winter being the nearest approach to it I have ever seen.

On Monday the 22nd day of February, just 29 years ago today, Capt. Hezekiah Carman with whom I was boarding at that time, took me with his team across Eggemoggin Reach to Sargentville, where I was to take the stage for Bluehill and Bucksport.

thence to Belfast, enroute to my home in Appleton. When we reached Sargentville we found that the stage had gone, so leaving my trunk to be forwarded to Belfast by stage, I returned to the island and decided to walk to Belfast on the ice.

No one had made the attempt at that time, though no water was visible from the island in any direction, and everyone assured me there was no danger. I left the village about 9 a. m. and shaped my course due northwest as well as a landlubber could for Turtle Head, the northern extremity of Isleboro.

When I left the island the walking was very good, the ice being covered with snow which had become wet and frozen, forming a crust, but after getting away from the land a few miles I found much smooth ice which made the walking very tiresome.

At first when I came to some dark places in the ice I made a detour around them thinking that the ice there might not be safe, and I thought when I came to Cape Rozier, having heard that the water off that point was deep and not liable to be frozen so hard, that I would go ashore and walk across the cape taking the ice upon the other side.

Just before arriving there, however, I came to a crack in the ice and it being high water the ice had parted leaving an opening of nearly a foot and I decided to test it and find out how thick the ice really was; removing my coats and rolling up my shirt I thrust my hand down into the cold ice water to the bottom of the ice and to my astonishment I found it to be about 18 inches in thickness, and I was satisfied that it would hold me up anywhere in the bay, and I made a bee line for Turtle Head.

I remember just before reaching there I came to a small fishing schooner hard and fast in the ice and apparently abandoned. I boarded her, took possession in the name of the U. S. government and rested for awhile before continuing my trip, concluded to abandon the vessel to her fate as it would be hard work towing her into port.

Up to this time I had not seen a living thing since leaving Deer Isle. Looking across the bay toward Castine from Turtle Head I could see teams on the ice apparently on their way from Belfast to Castine so I shaped my course up the bay so as to touch this road thinking I might hit a chance for a ride.

I finally came to the road and as it seemed to me without actual counting, I met 500 teams more or less bound toward Castine but not a blessed one going in my direction. These teams had been to Belfast from Castine, Brooksville and adjoining towns for supplies, as that was the only place from which they could get stores at that time, and having gone over to Belfast in the morning were now returning in the afternoon.

As I neared Belfast I saw a large side wheel steamer frozen solidly in the ice, which proved to be the Katahdin of the Boston & Bangor, now the Eastern Steamship Co.'s line.

Just after I passed the steamer I met a man with a horse and sleigh, who, probably noticing that I was walking as if I had been engaged in a six days go-as-you-please, pulled up his horse and inquired if I had walked all the way across from Castine.

I said: "Worse than that, I came up from Northwest Harbor, Deer Isle."

"How much further do you intend to walk tonight?" he asked.

I informed him that if I reached the American House that was about all I should undertake.

"Well," said he, "I think you have walked about far enough for one day. Jump in and I will carry you up," which he did. And I am obliged to him for the kindness even now.

I arrived at the American House about 4 p. m., having been about seven hours on the ice.

I recall that Wm. H. Simpson, editor of the Republican Journal, among others, called in to the hotel in the evening, it having been noised about that a man had walked from Deer Isle to Belfast on the ice.

Mr. Simpson said he thought I was quite a walker. I told him there was a good reason for it, my mother was a Walker.

At the same time Martin Kirt, who was a member of the Maine House of Representatives, and who had been home at Vinalhaven for a few days, and the harbor closing up so there was no communication with Rockland, crossed the island to North Haven, thence to Pulpit Harbor by team and walked from there either to Northport or Lincolnville, then on to Belfast, stopping over night at the American House, and then by rail to Augusta. He was taken sick from the effect of the walk and I think took no further part in the proceedings of the Legislature.

Unless he served in two legislatures and had two experiences with the ice which I very much doubt, the writer in the Journal is off about 14 years in his dates.

The next morning, feeling that I needed more exercise, I walked from Belfast out to Appleton.

There has not been so much ice in Penobscot bay since that time until this winter and now I doubt if anyone can be found who will attempt to walk either from North Haven or Deer Isle to Belfast.

A. H. Newbert.

Rockland, Feb. 22, 1904.

Woman's Journal: Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper, now a leading Baptist pastor of Philadelphia, in his early days assisted in some revival meetings in North Carolina. Three months afterward he received a letter from one of the converts as follows: "Dear Doctor Tupper—I shall never cease from being grateful for your visit to North Carolina. Before you came I had never heard of either the Lord or the devil, but now I know and love them both."

Nearly Forfeits His Life.

A runaway almost ending fatally, started a horrible ulcer on the leg of J. B. Orner, Franklin Grove, for four years it defied all doctors and all remedies. But Bucklin's Arnica Salve had no trouble to cure him. Equally good for Burns, Bruises, Skin Eruptions and Piles. 25c at W. H. Kittredge's drug store.

A wonderful clock has just been completed by a Bavarian clock-maker after 19 years of labor. It tells the seconds, minutes, hours, days, weeks, months, years and Christian festivals. The course of the sun, moon and constellations are given and eclipses shown. The clock has been regulated to keep all these things until 2899. The clock consists of 2200 parts, and has 142 wheels, while it is worth $8750.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

Rain On The Roof.

When the humid shadows hover
Over all the starry spheres,
And the melody of darkness
Gently weeps in rainy tears,
What a joy to press the pillow
Of a cottage chamber bed
And to listen to the patter
Of the soft rain overhead!

Every tinkle on the shingles
Has an echo in the heart;
And a thousand dreamy fancies
Into busy being start;
And a thousand recollections
Weave their bright hues into woe,
As I listen to the patter
Of the rain upon the roof.

Now, in fancy, comes my mother
As she used to, years ago,
To survey her darling dreamers
Ere she left them till the dawn;
Oh! I see her bending o'er me,
As I list to this refrain,
Which is played upon the shingles
By the patter of the rain.

Then my little seraph sister,
With her wings and waving hair,
And her bright, yes, cherub brother—
A serene, angelic pair!
Glide around my wakeful pillow,
With their praise or mild reproach,
As I listen to the murmur
Of the soft rain on the roof.

And another comes to thrill me
With her eyes delicious blue;
And forget I, gazing on her,
That her heart was all untrue;
I remember but to love her
With a rapture kin to pain,
And my heart's quick pulses vibrate
To the patter of the rain.

There is naught in Art's bravura
That can work with such a spell
As the spirit's pure, deep fountain,
Whence the holy psalm is well,
As that melody of Nature,
That subdued, subdued strain
Which is played, upon the shingles
By the patter of the rain.

—Coates Kinney.

NOTICE.....

OUR AGENCY REPRESENTS

Nineteen Fire Insurance Companies

Which are among the oldest and strongest doing business in the United States. Most of them have met with large losses in the Baltimore fire. They will still continue in business and pay their losses in full as they did in the great fires of Chicago, Boston, Patterson and Jacksonville.

This, we believe, is evidence enough of the protection afforded property insured in our agency.

WE SOLICIT YOUR BUSINESS.

MAYNARD S. BIRD,

Rockland, Maine.

Buckwheat Cakes

with

ROYAL Baking Powder

Are delicious and wholesome — a perfect cold weather breakfast food.

Made in the morning; no yeast, no "setting" over night; never sour, never cause indigestion.

To make a perfect buckwheat cake, and a thousand other dainty dishes, see the "Royal Baker and Pastry Cook." Mailed free to any address.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

SATURDAY, FEB. 27,

We will offer as usual cut prices on Beef.

Good Roast for 10 cents.
Good Fat Corned Beef for 5 cents.
Chuck Steak, 10 cents.
Hens, Chickens, Turkeys and Lamb in good supply.

This is the season to use Asparagus Points and Salmon Steak, as good as fresh from the garden.

RALPH'S GRAB BOX is full of pleasant surprises—at 5 cents a grab.

Our NABOB COFFEE is a winner—great value for 25 cents.

Simmons White & Company

Talk of the Town

Coming Neighborhood Events.
 Feb. 28—Knox Pomona Grange at Barrettsville.
 Feb. 28—The Camden Concert Band at Farwell Opera House.
 Feb. 29—Mar. 1—Rockland District Ministerial Association in Rockland.
 Feb. 29—The Progressive Literary club meets with Mrs. Jennie Bird, Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.
 Feb. 29—Leap Year mask ball in Willoughby hall.
 Mar. 1—Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" at Farwell Opera House.
 March 2—City Election.
 March 9—Thomasston, Methodist church fair and entertainment.
 March 10—Public debate between R. H. S. and Westbrook Summary at High school building.
 March 16—Canadian Jubilee singers at the Methodist church.
 April 2—Easter Sunday.

Walter H. Spear has been in Boston for a few days to get the fittings and furnishings for his boot and shoe store.

Charles E. Weeks has been in Portland this week attending the reception given to Gen. Raney of the Patriarchs Militant.

The damage to the schooner Marion Cobb, which caught fire at her berth Sunday night, will be more than at first thought, probably over $1,000.

Steamer Vinhaven sustained little or no icy damage from her recent ice bath at Tilson wharf. The idea that she had sprung a leak was unfounded.

City Treasurer Robinson's receipts yesterday included $1000 which is derived from Pleasant Valley Grange for the sale of the Middle Street school building.

Thomas Coleman who was released from the state prison Wednesday is wanted in two New Hampshire counties on the charge of horse stealing. Sheriff from the two counties came here after him but did not have the necessary requisition papers. There was a brief hearing at the court house before Judge Lincoln which resulted in the fixing of March 9 as the date of a hearing before Gov. Hull.

The regular meeting of the Wavenook Club was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Cora Snow. The papers of the evening were: "Victor Hugo and His Contemporaries," by Mrs. May Snow and "Education in France," by Miss Harnden. After the meeting Mrs. Snow entertained the members with the popular games of "ditch" and "pit." Refreshments were served and all had a very happy time. Two members of the Snicker Club happened in time for the refreshments.

On Sunday evening, Feb. 28, at Farwell opera house, the Camden Concert Band, H. N. Walker, conductor, will give their first concert in this city, assisted by Mme. Cote-Howard soprano, Dr. W. V. Hanscom baritone. These concerts have been given in Camden and proved very successful. The program consists of high class standard and sacred music. On Sunday last the attendance was the largest in the history of the opera house at Camden. The concert will not commence until 8:30 which will give everybody an opportunity of attending. Children ten cents. Adults twenty cents. The advance sale of seats will open this Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, and the box office will also open Sunday evening at 6 o'clock. All seats reserved.

Take your Pictures to Spear's, 408 Main street, and have them framed in a tasteful and up-to-date style. A fine stock of Mouldings always on hand.

The Canadian Jubilee Singers will appear in the Methodist church on Wednesday evening, March 16. They will come here with genuine endorsement of press and public.

William W. Case suffered a sprained ankle while at the scene of the fire last Sunday night. A policy in Moran's U. S. Casualty Co. served as a partial balm to the wounded member.

Bert Bachelder's dancing school in Warren closes next Monday night. Another of the assemblies given by Bachelder, Whittier and Robinson takes place this Friday evening.

Knox Lodge of Odd Fellows conferred the initiatory degree on one candidate Monday night, and received one application.

Wilbur S. Cross has been appointed a substitute letter carrier at the Rockland postoffice, his appointment dating from Feb. 4. He has been substituting the past three weeks for Carrier Lovejoy who has been severely ill. Mr. Cross is a high school graduate and has since been engaged at the Commercial College. He took the civil service examination last spring.

The funeral of the late Obed Buck took place Wednesday afternoon at the home of the deceased on South Main street, Knox Lodge of Odd Fellows to which he belonged acted as a very large delegation and had charge of the services. Rev. E. H. Chapin officiated. There were many floral tributes. Mr. Buck was nearly 63 years of age. He was born in Monville and was a son of Henry L. and Elsie (Burgess) Buck. He had been a resident of Rockland many years and was a very industrious and worthy citizen. The last years of his service were in the employ of Thorndike & Hix as teamster. Mr. Buck is survived by his wife, formerly Sarah S. Upham, and several children.

The Courier-Gazette acknowledges the receipt of a portfolio of Howard's cartoons, which have been published from time to time in the Rockland Opinion, exciting much amusement on the part of the readers, together with much admiration for the artist's ability. While the cartoons are mainly illustrative of Knox county politics and Knox county men the artist has gone into state and national affairs with the same pronounced success. These cartoons are printed in colors and attractively bound. They may be obtained at the Opinion office for the modest price of 50 cents. The author is Herman Howard, formerly of Rockland—a branch of H. A. Howard of the Rockland Commercial College and County Attorney Howard.

The sale of seats for the library benefit minstrel opened at opera house in a lively manner Thursday morning. The telephone office was obliged to keep a waiting list, opening with forty-eight names, and for nearly two hours the opera house call—40-11—was constantly being used. Mr. Crockett himself attended the telephone orders while Mr. Engley passed the pasteboards through the ticket office window to patrons who came in person. In the two hours many of the choice floor seats were sold, leaving much of the gallery and the three front rows on the floor and some under the gallery for later sales. The prospect for a full house to greet the talent is pretty fair. The boys give a good show and the object is a worthy one.

V. A. Leach of the W. O. Hewett Co. Dry Goods House, returned Tuesday from New York where he had been to select goods for the spring trade. Mr. Leach had the good luck to strike a great trade in furs, and the Hewett Co. is advertising some big bargains in the same.

NEW NECKWEAR
 IN ORIENTAL COLORINGS,
 very beautiful and well.

New Line Handkerchiefs
 For Klmonas. Just look at them—then buy.

Agent Bangor Dye House and Butterick's Patterns.

THE LADIES' STORE
 MRS. E. F. CROCKETT
 677 W. O. HEWETT & CO.

EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY.

The Annual Statement of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States appears on another page of this issue. The Equitable continues to maintain its pre-eminent position in carrying the largest surplus of any similar financial institution in the world. It is to be noted the Maine Agency of the Society wrote and paid for $1,724,214.00, increasing its insurance in force $1,272,183.00—figures that are phenomenally large—and in this particular, leads all other Companies doing business in the Pine Tree State.

FARWELL OPERA HOUSE
 R. H. CROCKETT, Manager.

Tuesday, March 1

STETSON'S
 BIG, DOUBLE

Uncle Tom's Cabin Comp'y

$20,000 PRODUCTION

2 Bands, Ladies Drum Corps
2 Topsy's, Car Special Scenery
Lone Star Quartette

Operatic Orchestra
Mammoth Street Parade

Prices—35c and 50c
Children, 25c

Advance sale of seats Monday 9.00 a. m. No seats held after 5.15 unless paid for. Telephone 40-11.

The Fishing Gazette devotes a complimentary editorial to Warden Hanna's lobster article recently published in The Courier-Gazette, and says in conclusion: "We trust the lesson will be taken by those interested. The Hanna article has attracted widespread attention, and our invitation for a free discussion of the matter in these columns has already been accepted by several. In next Tuesday's issue there will be a short letter from Abner C. Johnson fish warden for Sagadahoc county, who differs from Mr. Hanna on the dogfish proposition. A well-known Rockland man, now in the steamboat business, is also reducing his views to writing with the view to answering Mr. Hanna. The latter writes to The Courier-Gazette that he will reply to any seriously written communications, but anything written from the humorous or malicious standpoint will receive not the slightest attention from him.

Miss Frances Hanrahan of this city, a recent graduate of the Rockland Commercial College, has accepted a position as bookkeeper for Livingston Manufacturing Co. The following named students graduated from the Commercial College last week: Roy W. Jellison, White Head; C. Arthur Wellman, Razorsville; Ralph L. Crockett, Oceanville; Geneva B. Sherman, Camden. Miss Sherman graduated from the shorthand department and the young men from the business department. Messrs. Howard & Brown have published several new diploma designs and are preparing for a large increase of business over last year.

The school of the day has already placed orders for 100 or more arc lampettes for business college, Marinette, Wis.; East Greenwich Academy, East Greenwich, R. I.; Gregg Shorthand School, Boston, Mass.; Friend's Boarding School, Haverhill, Minn.; Minnesota School of Business, Minneapolis, Minn.; Zeth Business School, Altoona, Pa.; Rasmussen Business School, Stillwater, Minn.; Duff's Mercantile College, Pittsburg, Pa.; Federal Business College, Ottawa, Ont. They are assisted in this work by F. W. Martin.

The warm rainstorm which struck Rockland last Monday proved a false alarm. It was succeeded by a few hours of fairly mild weather and along the ice-bound water front they began to dream of the time when the deep blue sea would again be visible.

Wednesday there came another cold snowstorm, and when this item was written Thursday there were certainly no indications that the ice king had relented. In the harbor, however, new hope was inspired by the appearance of the powerful tug Fred E. Richards, owned by the Rockland-Rockport Lime Co., which had lime barges in tow. This tug moved a channel through ice which was over a foot thick, directly from the channel which has been used by the steamboats this winter to the Perry wharf, where she soon landed one of the barges in the triumph. From the Perry wharf she made another channel across to the Point wharf, a portion of the harbor which has not been navigable since the embargo set in nearly two months ago. One barge is now discharging coal at the Point wharf and two are loading lime at the Perry wharf, which has also been shut off from navigation since the cold spell began. Wednesday night and Thursday morning the tug continued her good work in the harbor, enlarging the channel and placing the ocean directly on the tug. Along shore the news of the Richards' triumph was hailed with actual joy and had the tug been a human being instead of an ice-conqueror it would have blushed at the praise bestowed. At the lime office Thursday there came a number of requests for the tug's services but it was felt necessary to deny them because of damage which might possibly result to that valuable craft. On her return the Richards will take two barges and two schooners, laden with lime, ice and hay. In order to speed these cargoes, and make up for time which has been lost on account of the ice embargo, crews are working night and day in the loading and discharging process. One of the barges will carry half a cargo of hydrated lime, the demand for which is rapidly increasing in New York and other places.

Thorndike & Hix, coal and wood. 100-11

FARWELL OPERA HOUSE
 R. H. CROCKETT, Manager.

ONE CONCERT ONLY

Sunday Ev'ng, Feb. 28

The Camden

Concert Band

H. N. WALKER, Leader.

30—MEN—30

ASSISTED BY

Mrs. COTE-HOWARD SOPRANO

Dr. WALTER V. HANSCOM BARITONE

PRICES—Children, 10 Cents
Adults, 20 Cents

Seat sale opens 9.00 a. m., Saturday, and 6.00 p. m. Sunday. All seats reserved. Telephone 40-11.

W. O. HEWETT CO.

CONSIGNMENT
FUR SALE!

$5,000 worth on sale one week

BEGINNING

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 29,

At prices you may never see again

These Garments were selected personally by one of our buyers, fresh from the factories of New York's leading manufacturers, at extremely low prices, owing to the lateness of the season. We haven't space to mention each Bargain separately—Come and see for yourself! No woman who boasts of being a careful spender or a close saver of money, can afford to ignore this Sale.

Beautiful Japanese Bear Sets $5. Sable Fox Scarfs
 Both single and double, self and squirrel lined, with muffs to match, at UNHEARD OF PRICES.

Fur Coats, both Electric and Near Seal, Plain and trimmed, will be on sale.

Remember, every Garment not sold is to be returned promptly to the Manufacturer, after this Sale is over. This explains the reason of our being able to quote such LOW PRICES!

SALE LASTS ONE WEEK, Monday, Feb. 29.

...CARD...

Our Annual Linen Sample Sale, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 2. See North Window.

W. O. Hewett Co.

CHURCH NOTES

"Man" will be the subject of the sermon at the Christian Science hall Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

The Rockland District Ministerial Association will meet in this city next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Lenten services will be held in the Universalist church this Friday evening at 7:15 o'clock. Subject, "The Witness of the Spirit."

In the Methodist church Sunday the pastor will have for his morning subject "God's Call To America," and in the evening "True Riches."

The pastor will preach in the Universalist church Sunday morning and evening. The morning topic will be "Entering by the Door" in the evening "The Master."

Rev. W. J. Day of the First Baptist church will preach at the Congregational church Sunday morning in exchange with the pastor. Evening praise service with address by Mr. Moore as usual.

Services at the Free Baptist church

Sunday will be as follows: Preaching by the pastor, Rev. B. S. Fiffeld, subject, "Personal Responsibility." Junior service at 3 o'clock. Evangelistic services in the evening.

At St. Peter's Episcopal church Sunday morning H. V. B. Nash of New York will deliver an address on "Lay Help in the Church." Mr. Nash is temporarily of this diocese, a member of the bishop's advisory council and of the board of missions.

At the First Baptist church Sunday there will be preaching at 10:30 by Rev. C. A. Moore, pastor of the Congregational church. Bible school at 12. Evening service at 7. The pastor, Rev. W. J. Day, will deliver the third lecture on "A Scripture Question Looked at and Answered in the Light of History."

Capt. E. A. Butler attended the meeting of the Maine Society Sons of the American Revolution, in Portland, Monday. The principal speaker was Hon. John D. Long, former secretary of the navy. A. W. Butler was re-elected vice president of the order, for Knox county.

BORN.
 DEYANET—Port Clyde, St. George, February 18, to Mr. and Mrs. Willis Bryant, a son, ALLEN—Stonington, Feb. 7, to Mr. and Mrs. Marion Allen, a daughter.

MARRIED.
 ROBERT—Chute—Waldoboro, Feb. 16, by Rev. T. A. Roddick, Alfred K. Burdett and Bertha M. Chute, both of Waldoboro.
 WALLACE—SPAIN—Stonington, Feb. 8, by Rev. J. B. Aldrich, George Wallace of Stonington, and Gerie Stanley, of Swan's Island.
 FLANDERS—Triton—Rockland, Feb. 23, by Rev. B. S. Fiffeld, Albert A. Flanders and Mrs. Fannie Titus, both of Rockland.

DIED.
 STORY—Glenchester, Mass., Feb. 12, Mrs. Ellen Story, formerly of Deer Isle.
 WILLARD—Port Clyde, St. George, Feb. 23, Mrs. Audrey Willard.
 KENEAN—Rockland, Feb. 22, Ellen, widow of John Kenean.
 HALL—Lincolnton, Feb. 16, Minnie, wife of Adolbert Hall, formerly of Camden.
 FREDRICKS—East Sumner, Feb. 16, George Fredrickson, formerly of Camden.
 WATKINS—North Appleton, Feb. 3, Fred J. Watkins, aged 75 years.

The mask ball in Willoughby hall Monday evening will begin at 8 o'clock sharp. The subscribers are requested to note this fact.

FINAL CLOSING OUT SALE

NOW ON Fall and Winter Stock NOW ON

Furs, Scarfs, Muffs, Suits, Jackets, Skirts, Etc.

Wrappers, Waists and Millinery.

The Greatest Actual Mark Down of the Season

Fur Scarfs
1 Lot of 4.00 Opossum Scarfs in the Mark Down Sale only	$1.98
1 Lot of 85-in. Coney Scarfs, regular $4.00 value in this Mark Down Sale	$2.98
1 Lot 110 Scarfs in Opossum and Lynx, some Squirrel Lined, in this sale	$3.98
4 Bear and Opossum Scarfs in regular $12.50 value, in this Mark Down Sale only	$5.00
1 Isabella Fox Scarf, marked from $45 to	$27.50
2 Isabella Fox Scarfs marked from $35 to	$20.00
2 Isabella Fox Scarfs marked from $25 to	$15.00
6 Isabella Fox Scarfs marked from $15.50 to	$8.50
Ladies' $5.00 Skirts	$3.50
Ladies' $4.00 Skirts	$1.98

Come Early—These Won't Last Long

SIMONTON'S Mark Down Sale NOW ON

THE GREATEST ACTUAL MARK DOWN OF THE SEASON

Now On Fall and Winter Stock Now On

Furs, Scarfs, Muffs, Suits, Jackets, Skirts, Etc.

Wrappers, Waists and Millinery.

Furs FULLER &amp; COBB Furs

The extraordinary weather which we have experienced this winter has created an unprecedented FUR business. We count ourselves lucky while in New York last week in securing some exceptional Bargains in FUR SETS, COATS and JACKETS, at Prices Lower Than Ever Before Quoted.

MEN'S FURS and FUR LINED COATS at a Saving of from $25 to $50 on each.

5 WOMEN'S NATURAL COON AUTOMOBILE COATS, sizes 36, 38 and 40, for $35 to $55 each, almost half price.

40 ELECTRIC and NEAR SEAL JACKETS, every one guaranteed, at Prices Sure to Please You.

10 WOMEN'S FUR CAPES, which sold for from $20 to $30, 24 to 28 inches deep, $9 each.

ELECTRIC SEAL MUFF, $5 quality, for $2.50.

NECK PIECES, in Fox, Squirrel and Mink, in all the desirable shapes, at Money-Saving Prices.

The FURS Will Go On Sale

Saturday, Feb. 27. At 9 o'clock a. m.

Furs FULLER & COBB Furs

THE OTHER MAN

By FREDERIC REDDALE

Copyright, 1904, by J. P. Lippincott Company.

CHAPTER IX.

The dual wedding of Stella and Marcia was set for early in the new year, a rumor had it that Sir Arthur, moved perhaps by the sight of so much killing and cooing, would shortly afterwards console himself likewise, and put a period to his bachelorhood by leading to the altar the daughter of a neighboring county magnate.

The time was rapidly approaching, and while the girls were busied with the delightful mysteries of trousseau-building the two men, Rosier Kane and Richard Dysart, were perforce thrown much on their own resources, and naturally saw a great deal of each other. Frequent trips to town were necessary, and these they often made in company on the off-days when there was no hunting. Kane could never have told how it came about, but it was certainly not of his devising, and to have shown indifference or distaste would have been to court suspicion. And besides, the attraction was mutual; under any other conditions the older man would have been comrades with his intended brother-in-law with unfeigned heartiness.

On one of these off-day trips to London they traveled in the same compartment to Euston, and then, both being bound for the city, they chartered a hansom, which set them down at the bank. Walking up Threadneedle street, they came suddenly face to face with a shabby little man who at sight of them stopped short, threw up both hands with an indescribable gesture of surprise, and then, turning sharply on his heel, vanished round the corner.

It was Moses Plish! "Funny little beggar," said Richard; "the last time I saw him was in Ladysmith; seemed to know us both!" "Why, yes," said Kane, as nonchalantly as possible, "he is—or was—for I haven't set eyes on him in a long time—one of the sharpest and shrewdest dealers in stones in all South Africa. In fact," with a quiet chuckle, "I've had some dealings with him myself in the old days."

"That's curious—so have I," said Richard. "He's the man to whom I sold some stones, you remember, when I came out of the wilderness."

Arrived at the corner of Bishopsgate street they parted, agreeing to meet for luncheon. As Kane turned away with a courteous wave of the hand, a sudden thought flashed through Rick's brain and held him rooted to the curb.

"By all that's holy!" he muttered, gazing after his late companion. "Could it be possible?"

Instead of doing his errand in the city, he hailed a passing hansom, and jumping in called out to the cabbie "Wellington street," and within a quarter of an hour he was with our friend the manager of the inquiry office.

"Have you anything for me?" he asked.

In response he received a legal envelope, quite bulky, which he thrust into his pocket.

"I believe all the data you asked for are there, Mr. Dysart," said the head of the concern, "and we have tabulated them in what seemed to us the order of their importance relative to your inquiry."

"Thanks," said Richard, and regained his cab. Once within its shelter he lost no time in examining the contents of the envelope. These consisted of a series of foolscap sheets, fastened together with a brass clip at the corner, each sheet bearing at the top the name of some man more or less well known in the city or the diamond trade, with certain biographical remarks appended.

And the first sheet bore the name of Rosier Kane!

Richard replaced the envelope in his pocket and sat staring ahead at the crowded mass of vehicles in Fleet street with a puzzled frown on his face.

CHAPTER X.

Five minutes after leaving Richard, as Kane was standing along Cornhill, he was overtaken by a shambling, breathless figure in rusty black, and to the whispered appeal—

"Bister Kane, sir—just a minute, sir!" he turned his head and saw the cringing form of old Plish at his side, ducking and bowing with abject servility.

"Well, Moses, what is it?" inquired Kane, in a business-like tone, stopping short, and drawing to one side out of the way of the hurrying throng. With an eye to the main chance, and realizing that it would be good policy to keep on the right side of the ledger with so rich a man as Kane, Plish had instantly decided to let him know that Dysart had asked certain pertinent or impertinent questions at Ladysmith, and thus forestall any possible evil consequences to himself from his wagging tongue.

"Excuse me for troubling you, Bister Kane, sir—just a minute, sir!"

"Bister Kane, sir—just a minute, sir!" he turned his head and saw the cringing form of old Plish at his side, ducking and bowing with abject servility.

"Well, Moses, what is it?" inquired Kane, in a business-like tone, stopping short, and drawing to one side out of the way of the hurrying throng. With an eye to the main chance, and realizing that it would be good policy to keep on the right side of the ledger with so rich a man as Kane, Plish had instantly decided to let him know that Dysart had asked certain pertinent or impertinent questions at Ladysmith, and thus forestall any possible evil consequences to himself from his wagging tongue.

"Excuse me for troubling you, Bister Kane, sir—just a minute, sir!"

"Bister Kane, sir—just a minute, sir!" he turned his head and saw the cringing form of old Plish at his side, ducking and bowing with abject servility.

"Well, Moses, what is it?" inquired Kane, in a business-like tone, stopping short, and drawing to one side out of the way of the hurrying throng. With an eye to the main chance, and realizing that it would be good policy to keep on the right side of the ledger with so rich a man as Kane, Plish had instantly decided to let him know that Dysart had asked certain pertinent or impertinent questions at Ladysmith, and thus forestall any possible evil consequences to himself from his wagging tongue.

"Excuse me for troubling you, Bister Kane, sir—just a minute, sir!"

"Bister Kane, sir—just a minute, sir!" he turned his head and saw the cringing form of old Plish at his side, ducking and bowing with abject servility.

"Well, Moses, what is it?" inquired Kane, in a business-like tone, stopping short, and drawing to one side out of the way of the hurrying throng. With an eye to the main chance, and realizing that it would be good policy to keep on the right side of the ledger with so rich a man as Kane, Plish had instantly decided to let him know that Dysart had asked certain pertinent or impertinent questions at Ladysmith, and thus forestall any possible evil consequences to himself from his wagging tongue.

"Excuse me for troubling you, Bister Kane, sir—just a minute, sir!"

"BISTER KANE, SIR—JUST A MINUTE, SIR."

I, 'Bister Kane might like to know that 'tother gent was makin' inquiries about 'im."

"When was this, Moses?" asked Kane, coolly snipping the end off a cigar.

"'Oot yonder, a matter o' six months ago. It was jest arter he'd made that there strike o' his'n in the Karroo country."

"Just so," said Kane. "But you see, Moses, Mr. Dysart and I have become very good friends, and any information he is likely to want he'll come to me for. Thanks, all the same," and so saying he nodded faintly to the little man and went on his way.

"Dash my vig, but 'e's a cool 'un," said Moses Plish to himself as he watched the tall, well-clad figure of the erstwhile adventurer disappear in the maddening crowd. "Wonder if 'e knows that Cupples is in London, too!"

But despite his outward nonchalance Kane was inwardly perturbed at this chance encounter. That Moses Plish was in London had probably no significance. Whatever he might suspect, he had no absolute knowledge of that dark and bloody episode on the veldt—no one knew the truth save the two men implicated together. And to only one of these was the whole truth known.

What was chiefly to be dreaded was that a new train of ideas might be set running in Dysart's mind. Kane feared lest a chance word should put him on the right scent, for even the dimmest suspicion would be disastrous now!

However, the two men got through their luncheon as per appointment, and the subsequent return journey was made without any noticeable strain or change in their relations. Nor was the evening spent at Denecroft any different from the many that had preceded it.

All was apparently serene. Both Sir Arthur and Richard were ideal hosts, and Stella's good-night kiss was as sweet and trustful as ever.

But the day's happenings served to kindle afresh Kane's uneasy forebodings, and intensified his distaste and horror at the part he was playing. The kindness and cordiality with which he was received at Denecroft made his own conduct, past and present, all the blacker by contrast.

That night the question occurred to him, what if Stella should discover the truth after they were married? She would scorn him with an unutterable scorn—not for his crime—he could fancy her forgiving that—but for his deceit and his false pretenses. That he had loved her and won her in ignorance of the identity of his victim would be no palliation of his after-offense in keeping it secret. With such a nature as hers, in which pride of birth was blended with an almost slavish worship of truth and honor, there could be but one outcome: She would spurn him from her sight!

Again: Suppose Richard were to stumble on the truth, and tax him with his crime? What could he do but cower like a whipped cur?

Rosier Kane was no common coward, but the mere thought of such a possibility caused him the keenest shrinking and chagrin.

Gradually, out of the turmoil of his thoughts, the conviction grew and took shape that his only hope of happiness lay in prompt confession and restitution—not an extorted avowal, but one made of his own free will, and while yet he held the reins in his own control.

Better to lose the girl now and retain his own self-respect than marry her and be found out afterwards, for in that event she would be lost to him beyond recall—that he felt sure.

The gray dawn of winter was creeping in around the edges of the window-blinds ere he came to this conclusion, and then it was with a strange feeling of elation and exaltation that he threw himself on the bed and slept the first refreshing sleep that had come to him in weeks.

The succeeding day was Sunday. Kane had promised to meet Stella at afternoon service and walk home with her. This had been their weekly custom since the fall, and they both dearly prized this half-hour of sweet intercourse as they sauntered through the park.

On this, possibly their last day together, Kane realized as he had never done before how inexpressibly indispensable she had become to him, and yet in that very fact he found strength for the coming ordeal, for with his customary quick decision he meant to get it over.

"You will probably find Sir Arthur and Rick in the library," she said, as they entered the hall at Denecroft, as yet unlighted save by the fitful blaze of a log fire.

"Will you join us there?" inquired Kane, solicitously, as he detained her by the hand.

"Certainly, if you wish it," she returned.

"I do wish it," was the reply. "I have something to say which I want you all to hear."

A new note in his voice arrested her attention, and she looked up at him in quick surprise. He drew her, into a little recess, and took her in his arms, imprinting on her lips a warm and passionate kiss.

"It may be for the last time, dearest," he whispered, "but do not judge me too harshly when you hear all."

"What is it?" she asked tremulously, her eyes large and luminous with tender interest and alarm. For answer he said:

"In a little while you will know," and led her to the foot of the stairs. Slowly she ascended as though oppressed by the weight of an impending disaster; at the turn she stopped and looked back at him where he stood watching her with passionate adoration, all his soul in his eyes. Then he turned his steps towards the library.

"Hullo, Kane!" exclaimed Richard, heartily rising and flinging a book to the other end of the leather lounge on which he had been dozing. "Come in, man! You're just in time to keep us awake."

The baronet's greeting, if less vociferous, was none the less pleasant. "Where's Stella?" inquired Richard.

"She will be here immediately," said Kane, and even as he spoke she entered the room.

"Ring for your candles, will you, Sir?" exclaimed Richard. "It gets dark so confoundingly early here."

Stella moved towards the bell, but Kane stayed her with a gesture.

"Not just yet, please, if I may interfere," he said. "I have something to tell you all—something that is not easy for me to say—and I think I can get along better by the fire-light."

There was a lifeless quality in his voice, and his usually verile tones were curiously muffled. Richard Dysart was as far from divining what was actually coming as either of the other listeners, yet he was conscious of a quickening thrill of expectancy, roused by Kane's words and manner, and he glanced at him keenly.

"One moment, Kane," he said; "am I concerned in the story?"

"You are," was the answer, at which Richard drew a deep breath and settled back in his seat.

Stella moved to a place in the recess by the fireplace, where there was deep shadow; Sir Arthur and Richard sat on either side the blaze; Kane remained standing in the center, declining a proffered seat. All looked

Mrs. Fairbanks tells how neglect of warning symptoms will soon prostrate a woman. She thinks woman's safeguard is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Ignorance and neglect are the cause of untold female suffering, not only with the laws of health but with the chance of a cure. I did not heed the warnings of headaches, organic pains, and general weariness, until I was well nigh prostrated. I knew I had to do something. Happily I did the right thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound faithfully, according to directions, and was rewarded in a few weeks to find that my aches and pains disappeared, and I again felt the glow of health through my body. Since I have been well I have been more careful, I have also advised a number of my sick friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they have never had reason to be sorry. Yours very truly, Mrs. MAY FAIRBANKS, 216 South 7th St., Minneapolis, Minn." (Mrs. Fairbanks is one of the most successful and highest salaried travelling saleswomen in the West.)

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For over two years I suffered more than tongue can express with kidney and bladder trouble. My physician pronounced my trouble catarrh of the bladder, caused by displacement of the womb. I had a frequent desire to urinate, and it was very painful, and lumps of blood would pass with the urine. Also had backache very often. "After writing to you, and receiving your reply to my letter, I followed your advice, and feel that you and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have cured me. The medicine drew my womb into its proper place, and then I was well. I never felt any pain now, and can do my housework with ease."—Mrs. ALICE LAMON, Kincaid, Miss.

No other medicine for female ills in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which we have in our possession. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

they entered the hall at Denecroft, as yet unlighted save by the fitful blaze of a log fire.

"Will you join us there?" inquired Kane, solicitously, as he detained her by the hand.

"Certainly, if you wish it," she returned.

"I do wish it," was the reply. "I have something to say which I want you all to hear."

A new note in his voice arrested her attention, and she looked up at him in quick surprise. He drew her, into a little recess, and took her in his arms, imprinting on her lips a warm and passionate kiss.

"It may be for the last time, dearest," he whispered, "but do not judge me too harshly when you hear all."

"What is it?" she asked tremulously, her eyes large and luminous with tender interest and alarm. For answer he said:

"In a little while you will know," and led her to the foot of the stairs. Slowly she ascended as though oppressed by the weight of an impending disaster; at the turn she stopped and looked back at him where he stood watching her with passionate adoration, all his soul in his eyes. Then he turned his steps towards the library.

"Hullo, Kane!" exclaimed Richard, heartily rising and flinging a book to the other end of the leather lounge on which he had been dozing. "Come in, man! You're just in time to keep us awake."

The baronet's greeting, if less vociferous, was none the less pleasant. "Where's Stella?" inquired Richard.

"She will be here immediately," said Kane, and even as he spoke she entered the room.

"Ring for your candles, will you, Sir?" exclaimed Richard. "It gets dark so confoundingly early here."

Stella moved towards the bell, but Kane stayed her with a gesture.

"Not just yet, please, if I may interfere," he said. "I have something to tell you all—something that is not easy for me to say—and I think I can get along better by the fire-light."

There was a lifeless quality in his voice, and his usually verile tones were curiously muffled. Richard Dysart was as far from divining what was actually coming as either of the other listeners, yet he was conscious of a quickening thrill of expectancy, roused by Kane's words and manner, and he glanced at him keenly.

"One moment, Kane," he said; "am I concerned in the story?"

"You are," was the answer, at which Richard drew a deep breath and settled back in his seat.

Stella moved to a place in the recess by the fireplace, where there was deep shadow; Sir Arthur and Richard sat on either side the blaze; Kane remained standing in the center, declining a proffered seat. All looked at him expectantly.

"Richard Dysart," he began in colorless tones, "nearly a year ago you were treacherously ambushed, shot and robbed on the banks of the Mool river. We all know the pitiful story; no need to go over it again. The man who robbed you was then a poor outcast, down on his luck, a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long, dark nights because he dared not kindle a blaze which might not reply to all. So it was with a very Ishmael, and it may be honestly asserted through no fault of his own. This man saw you, a perfect stranger, start on your prospecting trip into the Karroo country. He tracked you on horseback from day to day, camping within sight of your fire every night, sharing your hardships, starving when you went hungry, freezing through the long

THOMASTON HAPPENINGS

The debate which was to have been held at the high school last Friday will take place Friday afternoon of this week. The question is: "Resolved, that the United States ought to pay Colombia $10,000,000 for the loss of Panama." Messrs. Crighton and Jones for the affirmative; Messrs. Beverage and Hahn for the negative.

The receipts from the E. Henry Tillson Relief Corps sale and entertainment were larger than was first given out, the sum being $29.22.

Post Commander W. R. Bradford and R. E. Barrows attended the G. A. R. department meeting at Bangor. The latter was the regular delegate.

Orders taken for job printing at The Courier-Gazette's department office, room 3 Levensworth block. First-class work and prices just to all.

The present graduating class of the T. H. S. is composed of six boys and twelve girls. Following are the names of the members: Messrs. Herbert Rider, Clarence Henry, Fred Brown, George McDonald, Charles Beverage, George Curtis, Misses Ella and Eliza Wiley, Florence Shorey, Norena Strong, Fannie Shaw, Freda Maxcy, Eliza Young, Irene Cousins, Elsie Reed, Mollie Jamison, Elvira Kaler, Minnie Hill. The graduation exercises will take place in June and Brigham's orchestra of Marlboro will furnish music. It is also quite probable that these musicians will play for the ball.

Mrs. J. E. Walker went to Bangor, Monday.

Shrader & Currier have completed the gasoline power dory for Pearl Cooke of Rockland and the craft has been shipped to New York.

Plans are being perfected by the ladies of the Methodist church and society for a fair and entertainment to be held Wednesday afternoon and evening, March 3. There will be a table of useful and fancy articles, an apron table and a "forget-me-not" table. A supper will be served in connection with the fair. Ice cream will also be on sale. An exceedingly interesting program is being arranged for the entertainment in the evening.

The high school debate takes place this Friday afternoon.

Rev. E. M. Cousins attended the installation of the new pastor of the Warren church at Westbrook. He delivered the charge. This is the church in which Mr. Cousins preached for ten years.

Everybody joins in congratulating Gen. Knox Chapter, D. A. R. on the very flattering net proceeds of the Colonial fair, which were over $25. This wipes out the debt on the church, and $75 has been placed in the bank to be used in painting the structure.

Especially noteworthy among the large number of relics exhibited at the D. A. R. Colonial fair was an old leather portmanteau, given by Gen. Washington to Gen. Knox when the latter was secretary of the Continental Congress. It was a very fine specimen of money in to pay off the Revolutionary soldiers. Exhibited with it was a $2 paper bill of Continental currency, on which is inscribed: "Good for two Spanish mill dollars, dated May 8, 1780, and signed by R. Cranch and Loran Baldwin." There was also a brooch worn by a pilgrim who came over in the Mayflower; a ladies' pair of shoes, an old candle, an old cruet, and a chair 150 years old, brought over by the first Malcom; old mourning embroidery, and a letter written in 1726, now in the possession of W. E. Vinal.

Rev. W. A. Newcombe and wife have returned to Portland from Bangor, where the former is receiving treatment from Dr. Spaulding.

The S. B. Club enjoyed a very pleasant evening at the home of Miss Ida Singer Wednesday evening.

There will be a preaching service at the Baptist church Sunday morning. Mrs. V. S. Vose and Miss Lella Miller entertained at what Tuesday evening at the home of the former on Gleason street.

The voters of the town are requested to meet in the selectmen's room at 7.30 p. m. Monday to choose two persons for traverse jurors at the supreme court which will be held at Rockland Tuesday, March 1.

At a meeting of the Black Bard minstrelsy Tuesday evening a permanent organization was formed and these officers were elected: O. G. Dinsmore, manager; Charles W. Singer, treasurer; W. W. Gilchrist, stage manager; P. E. Peaslee, property manager; E. K. Winchbach has been appointed assistant manager. The show has a few open dates and solicits correspondence from any person or order desiring to have the show put on the stage.

The small house village on the ice of the Georges river between here and Warren is a conspicuous figure to passers.

Woman Beat Two Men
MILLINERY BUSINESS
FOR SALE

I wish to announce to the public that my Millinery Business is For Sale. Here is an excellent opportunity for a smart woman to invest in a business that will bring very profitable results. Pleasantly and centrally located in

TELEGRAPH BLOCK, MAIN ST., THOMASTON, MAINE.

For full particulars inquire of or write

MRS. E. M. KELLAR
APPLETON, MAINE.

Headaches, Insomnia,
Indigestion and Nervous Troubles

May result from the fact that the eyes undergo a strain in their daily and constant use. Many persons who need glasses fight off the time of wearing them, or try to read without them as much as possible. This is a mistake, as the eyes become strained and inflamed as a result. Remember I make no charge for examination; also make new lenses to match broken ones.

CHAS. A. DE COSTA,
GRADUATE OPTICIAN,
Thomaston, Me.

N. B. Drop me a postal and I will call at your residence, or by appointment at Chas. C. McDonald's Drug Store, Thomaston.

L. D. JONES, Attorney-at-Law,
and R. K. in the library," she said, as [clinging a proffered seat. All looked singers on the R. T. & C. Street Railway.

Work was resumed in Washburn Bros' shipyard Tuesday. The keel for the schooner is laid and business will continue now as rapidly as the weather will permit.

Who in this town is going to try for that free trip to the St. Louis Exposition that The Courier-Gazette is to give away? The prize is a great one and worth striving for. It is open to school teachers, clerks, professional men and women, anybody in short who cares to contest. The winner has the privilege of inviting a guest and The Courier-Gazette pays every bill. This town ought to be represented.

THE COLONIAL FAIR.
By Gen. Knox Chapter D. A. R. Was Successful in Every Particular.

One of the most interesting and successful events of the season was the Colonial fair given at Watts hall, Monday, day and evening, under the auspices of Gen. Knox Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution of this town. Some months ago a movement for the preservation of the "old church on the hill" was begun by the energetic and thoughtful members of this chapter, and for weeks those in charge have been working faithfully to secure the additional funds needed. In this movement every citizen of Thomaston is interested and all have tried to aid in some way to swell the fund.

Gen. Knox Chapter, D. A. R., however, took the lead and for this purpose the Colonial fair was held. A bit of history in connection with the old church may not go amiss at this time. The money to build the structure was raised by subscription. Maj. Gen. Henry Knox subscribing 40 pounds, ($200) and the glass, provided it be built in 1775. Three days ago occupied in raising the frame, men, women and children coming from all of the adjoining towns to contribute their aid. It was a day of "eat, drink and be merry," and there was a large crowd present. In 1775 Gen. Knox purchased a bell of Paul Revere of Boston and presented it to the parish, this being for many years the only bell in this region which called the people to ship. Returning to the fair, it may be justly said that everybody was greatly pleased with it and all join in congratulating the members of Gen. Knox Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, who along the balcony bunting was neatly festooned. Old Glory, with its ever handsome stars and stripes, was conspicuous about the hall, while there hanging under the stars and stripes, was a picture of the battle of the Clouds. In each corner of the hall were arranged bowers of evergreen trees and on the stage front was the red, white and blue. On the right hand upper corner was a picture of the battle of the Clouds. This department was in charge of Mrs. C. A. Creighton and contained many old, interesting and valuable relics. Among them was a musket belonging to Haunce Hyler; two books, formerly the property of Mrs. Lucy Knox, and loaned by Miss Nettie Levensworth; an old account book of Gen. Knox's; his tool chest, and one of his chairs; a pitcher, 150 years old, which belonged to Dr. Mary Coombs, a great grandmother of Mrs. J. E. Mears. Mrs. Coombs was a very able and heroic woman and was the wife of Sylvanus Coombs, who lived on Rutherford's Island. In those days the British went to the island for supplies, and one time Mrs. Coombs overheard their conversation, found out that they were going to steal an American schooner at Johns bay. She defeated their plan by taking a midnight ride, with her husband and had the sails, etc., removed from the craft. She was a noted physician and performed many heroic deeds.

The remembrance table attracted a large amount of attention, being laden with valuable articles of many descriptions and sent by friends from all over the country. They were: two European fans from Mrs. Marie Rankin, Boston; shirt waist set, Mrs. Jeanette Tufts, Boston; guest book, Mrs. W. E. Hinckley, Lisbon; half-donated dollies, Mrs. Foster Hooper, Boston; collar and cuff set, Mrs. Mary Plank, Mobile, Ala.; pin ball, Miss Hattie Foster, Mobile, Ala.; pin cushion, Mrs. Calvin Owen, Mobile, Ala.; two china plates, Mrs. Currier, Providence; chaffin-dish apron, Mrs. G. B. Matthews, New Britain, Conn.; fancy bag, Mrs. Ralph Patterson, Waterville; fancy bag, Mrs. Elijah Johnson, Bangor; traveling case, Mrs. Mason, Leicester, Mass.; dusting cap, Mrs. H. M. Packard, Whitman, Mass.; collar and cuff set, Miss Christine Robinson, Worcester, Mass.; traveling case, Mrs. W. A. Lewis, Somerville, Mass.; book and dolly, Mrs. S. F. Robinson and daughters, Brooklyn, fancy bag, Miss Annie O. Gerry, Boston; two fancy bags, Mrs. H. H. White, Brookline, Mass.; apron, Mrs. Loring, Boston; burnt leather, Mrs. R. E. Dunn, San Francisco; pin cushion, Miss Harding, Boston; dolly, Mrs. H. C. Somers, San Francisco; match safe and pin tray, George Tillson, Brooklyn; handkerchief, Mrs. Carrie Walker, Pierce, N. Y.; burnt leather, Miss Chapman and Mrs. Tenney, Boston; burnt leather, Ethan Tillson, Providence; collar and cuffs, Miss Helen Patten, Providence; collar, Mrs. C. W. Stimpson and Jean, Boston.

There was a large and valuable guess cake made by Mrs. Creighton, two dolls, Lucy Fluker Knox and Beulah, to guess on and a pair of Belgian hares. Jack Horner pies held a prominent position. The tables were bountifully laden with all kinds of good things, making one of the best displays ever seen in this town.

The fortune teller, Miss Lena Harty, occupied the booth on the left of the stage and was very successful in her predictions. This proving to be an interesting feature.

At 5.30 a delicious chaffin-dish supper was served in the banquet hall and also a nice fish chowder.

In the evening a pleasing vocal and instrumental entertainment was given as follows: Selection, "America," male quartet; piano duet, Misses Beth Washburn, Ella Jamison; soprano solo, Miss Anne Jamison; reading, Miss Fannie Shaw; selection, male quartet; duet, the Misses Jamison; recitation, Master Arthur McDonald; soprano solo, Miss Williams; piano, Mrs. L. M. Midget, Nettle Sampson; Bridge, Lizzy Tobie; Alice, Edith Russell; Lily Aiken, Mollie Jamison; Susan Dean, Katherine Feehan, Jennie Currier, Mary Thomas, a Little Mabel Smith; Feehan; selection, mixed quartet.

There was also given the laughable and pleasing farce—"No Cure, No Pay!" with the following cast: Mrs. Langush, Mrs. E. G. Weston; Mrs. Midget, Nettle Sampson; Bridge, Lizzy Tobie; Alice, Edith Russell; Lily Aiken, Mollie Jamison; Susan Dean, Katherine Feehan, Jennie Currier, Mary Thomas, a Little Mabel Smith; Feehan; selection, mixed quartet.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

Those in charge of the tables were: Candy, Misses Beth Washburn, Annie Jamison; old china, Mrs. George French; white work, Mrs. C. H. Washburn, Mrs. E. G. Weston; aprons, Mrs. E. S. Smalley, Mrs. E. L. Montgomery; Jack Horner pies, Misses Mollie Jamison, Sadie Linnell.

VINALHAVEN

Edward Russell has returned from Gloucester, Mass., where he visited his daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Smith.

Herbert Boman arrived home Saturday from Bowdoin college for a short vacation.

Wednesday evening this week at the vestry missionary meeting will have the subject, "Japan." These missionary meetings are held on Wednesday of each month are interesting and are well attended.

Friday evening Island Home Entertainment 1. O. O. F. Admitted to membership 2 candidates.

The delegates and members of the G. A. R. and Relief Corps, who attended the state encampment at Bangor last week, returned home Saturday morning.

Harry and Leon Sanborn and Merle Ames spent a few days at their homes during the past week. They returned to Gray's Business College, Portland Tuesday.

Mrs. T. G. Libby and son C. S. Libby went to Boston Saturday in response to a telegram stating the sudden illness of a library, while at the Quincy House on route for Pittsburgh, Pa. On their arrival they found the latter's condition much improved.

Col. Libby has continued his journey. The women's ball held Friday evening in Memorial hall was attended by a good sized crowd and was pronounced a social success.

Mrs. Allen, who on one day last week was laid up by a cold, is now feeling better. The young men of the Y. P. S. C. E. last Friday evening proved themselves a very efficient committee to arrange and provide for a program of games and refreshments of cake and lemon and pineapple sherbert. Besides the forty members, Rev. and Mrs. Colpitts were also present.

The remains of Abraham Johnson were taken to Swan's Island Tuesday for burial. Mr. Johnson was over seventy years of age and survived by his widow and sons, Herbert Johnson and Rev. Frederick Johnson.

The schools in town will begin Monday, Feb. 29, after a two weeks' vacation. The teachers will be the same as last term, with a few exceptions.

Mr. A. A. Abraham, who has been spending the last few months with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fifield, has gone to Princeton. Her husband, Rev. Mr. Abraham, has accepted a call from the Congregational society to become pastor of the church in that place, and he will be located there for the coming year.

Miss Maud Hamblen left Thursday for Boston to visit her sister, Mrs. Beulah Hannaford. After spending a few weeks in Boston, she will return to Boothbay, where she has been employed for the past few years.

Mr. H. E. Banks, who is employed in the stone yard at Vinalhaven, visited friends in town Saturday and Sunday.

Junia Chapter, O. E. S., have accepted an invitation to visit the chapter at Sedgwick next Friday evening.

Steamer Monhegan broke her propeller last Thursday in trying to get through the ice, and was unable to leave until the 23rd. The freight was loaded on to teams and driven across the Rockland wharf.

The mail arrived from Isle au Haut Sunday, the first time for eight days. Will Stinson was home last week. He is in the engine business at Portland and is now on his way to the north.

Teams are seen daily dodging among the islands. Wonder if they mind the buoys which side to go on. Is there any rule for this in the bay here for teams.

Chas. Pierson shot a fox last week on one of the islands here, the first one for some years.

Brookline, Sedgwick, Sargentville, Brooksville and Deer Isle are all dependent on the boat here for their freight this winter.

Alpheus Miller and Walter Grover were in Rockland, Tuesday.

Miss Jessie Sweeten entertained a few of her young schoolmates at her boarding place last Friday evening, the event celebrating her 13th birthday.

Constantine Carter of Round Pond was at Cyrus Grover's the first of the week.

Capt. and Mrs. Fred Maloney and son Willie were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Seavey, High street, Sunday.

George Brown of Port Clyde drove through from that place to Gay's Island last week with corn for his sheep.

Donald Rivers is at work for H. W. Rivers hauling kelp and pulp wood and logs.

Miss Millie Crouse is living with Mrs. Thomas Morse, while Mrs. Wm. Morse is visiting her daughter in Reading, Mass.

Anyone wishing to visit Gay's Island will find a good, strong bridge of ice to pass over easier by foot or team.

Miss Jessie Sweeten is preparing their year's firewood and the sound of the axe and saw may be heard in nearly every dooryard.

Mr. Miller is living with Mrs. Willie Bradford, East Friendship.

Rev. S. E. Packard of Waldoboro will preach at the Baptist church next Sunday morning, Feb. 28, at 10.30. All are cordially invited.

Miss Jennie Maloney was a guest of Mrs. Albion Morse this week.

A lecture and supper for the repair of the Baptist church was held in Rivers' hall Wednesday evening.

WILEY'S CORNER
Miss Sophronia Johnson, who is stopping in Rockland, was home Sunday.

The annual town meeting is drawing near and every taxpayer in the town ought to turn out and do their duty.

Pit is quite a popular game among the younger people.

Capt. Ardie Thomas, who came home from New York last week, returned to that port Tuesday, accompanied by Henry Ewell, who will make the trip to Norfolk.

Chas. Johnson is making the sticks for the Baptist church, Saturday.

Home made candles will be on sale. The program will begin at 8 o'clock.

Sunday evening at the Congregational church a lecture will be delivered by Hon. John Robinson on "The Beacon Lights of History." All are cordially urged to attend a lecture which is sure to be well worth hearing, dealing as it does with topics of history.

MONHEGAN.
Ho! All ye that hunger, come to Monhegan and be fed. The press made a big mistake if it thought the people here were in a starving condition. Probably they little dreamed that milk and honey flowed in abundance here the year around. Any time during the winter we could have fed half the population of Bangor for a week and had a surplus left. There is plenty of nice hard wood and coal and lobster selling at the astonishing price of 30 cents apiece. Every man's pocketbook contains the required amount for all purposes and business is rushing. Let the good work go on.

Ever Felt That Death Would Be Welcome?
Mrs. Margaret Smith often felt that death would be welcome. She had been suffering for two years a great sufferer from heart trouble and nervousness. At times I was so bad that I was so nervous that I would have welcomed death with joy. I was so bad that I was so nervous that I would have welcomed death with joy. I was so bad that I was so nervous that I would have welcomed death with joy.

Headaches, Insomnia, Indigestion and Nervous Troubles
May result from the fact that the eyes undergo a strain in their daily and constant use. Many persons who need glasses fight off the time of wearing them, or try to read without them as much as possible. This is a mistake, as the eyes become strained and inflamed as a result. Remember I make no charge for examination; also make new lenses to match broken ones.

CHAS. A. DE COSTA,
GRADUATE OPTICIAN,
Thomaston, Me.

N. B. Drop me a postal and I will call at your residence, or by appointment at Chas. C. McDonald's Drug Store, Thomaston.

L. D. JONES, Attorney-at-Law,
and R. K. in the library," she said, as [clinging a proffered seat. All looked thor, with a wave of the hand to where

thor, with a wave of the hand to where

thor, with a wave of the hand to where

Breaking the Record

A TWENTIETH CENTURY FLYER IN THE MEDICAL FIELD.

Rheumatism Rapidly and Radically Cured
Quick Work of a Famous Remedy.

Convenience, comfort, safety, speed are demanded by the traveling public in our rapid century and the keenest intellects constantly at work on these problems are making wonderful progress in the construction of the steamship and the locomotive. Like results are sought in medicines to take the place of the old-fashioned, leisurely treatment of disease, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are astonishing the world by the triumphs they are winning in the rapid cure of obstinate maladies, such as rheumatism. With speed they combine convenience, perfect safety and cheapness.

Here is fresh proof of their concentration of vision. Margaret Gantz, Burlington, Iowa, is an industrious German woman, who about two and a half years ago found herself in danger of losing her power to work altogether. She says: "I got rheumatism in my arms and I could hardly lift my feet over my doorstep. I ought to have gone to bed, but I couldn't afford to do that, so I forced myself to work in spite of the pain and stiffness. After suffering for about six months, I was told about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People by a friend, who said she had been cured by them. On her advice, I bought one box and in two weeks after I began to use them I was well and I have had no need to use

In Social Circles

John Wilson of Bangor, who formerly resided in Rockland, has been in the city this week.

Harvey Follett is home from Portland on a short visit.

Mrs. Barbour of Swan's Island accompanied her husband, Capt. Barbour, on his trip to this city Wednesday. They attended the grange dance at Glen Cove that evening.

The Wide Awake Singing Club and Husbands' Auxiliary enjoyed a fine picnic supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Newbert on Pleasant street Tuesday evening. Capt. E. S. Farwell was toastmaster.

Frank C. Case, who has been quite ill at his home on Masonic street, is improving.

The Wednesday Afternoon Whist Club met this week with Mrs. M. S. Williams, Summer street. First prize was won by Mrs. F. M. Smith of Crescent Beach, and the consolation prize by Mrs. Helen F. Hix.

The dancing party given by the Universalist ladies netted nearly $30 for the piano fund, which was very creditable for a stormy night. Mrs. E. W. Berry is soon to give a whist party at her home on Park street for the same purpose.

The 12mo Club was entertained Thursday evening at the home of A. S. Littlefield. The paper was by E. A. Butler, subject, "The American Merchant Marine."

At the young men's circle in the Universalist vestry Wednesday evening, about 200 persons enjoyed a delicious supper, and a brief but pleasing musical program as follows: Song, "The Link Divine," Mrs. Copping, with violin obligato by Nathan Israel, and Cecil S. Copping, piano accompaniment by Miss Hazel Hix; song, "Life's Mirror," Luther L. Smith; song, "Remembrance," Mrs. Belden; song, "Down in the Deep," Harry Thayer; song, "Morning," Miss Ethelyn Clifton. Mrs. Kittredge accompanied Mr. Tozier, Mrs. Copping the others. Then came the sparkling little play, "Who's Who," which proved a revelation to the audience, on account of the excellent manner in which it was presented, and the delightful make-up of the actors. Irving E. Wheeler, as Simondea Swanhopper, was twice as lively and ten times as funny as a "box of monkeys," putting into his lines an appearance of genuineness which seemed like the real thing. Frank M. Tibbets, who in real life has generally passed for a rather quiet and self-poised young man, demonstrated his ability to act by assuming to the life the character of the connected English flunkey, who declared himself to be called in "charismatic circles, a wally de shamb'r." Roy Knowlton, as Bloomfield Brambleton, looked like a handsome and well-preserved gentleman of sixty, and the old years, and the part of the frangible and much muddled old party to perfection. Miss Vivian Billings, as Cleely Brambleton, acted extremely well the beautiful and dutiful daughter, the efficient little housekeeper and charming hostess, while Miss Esley Bicknell as Matilda Jane, the "housemaid," utterly overcame and carried away with "them whiskers," as she called them on the "wally" whom she mistakes for the son-in-law elect of her master, and thus has her young affections "nipped in the bud," was a delightfully crisp, curly, and especially to Mrs. C. M. Tibbets for her efficient help with the supper and to Mrs. Arthur Berry, who conducted the rehearsals. The affair netted $18 for the piano fund.

Miss Alice Williams has returned to Westbrook Seminary.

Mrs. Dora Moody of Lincolnville is the guest of Mrs. Frances Thomas, Chestnut street.

The Quil Vive Club meets with Miss Mary Norton at the Thorndike parlors Saturday afternoon.

Eleven young men and women, who belong in Rockland or were former residents of this city, spent a very delightful evening at the new home of Capt. and Mrs. A. S. Snow in Charleston, Tuesday. In this party were Miss Sarah M. Hall, Miss Lizzie M. Perry, Miss Belle Spring, Miss Bessie Hall, Miss Alice Erskine, Miss Addie Snow, Miss Florence Hanly, William M. Munroe, William W. Graves, Harris Shaw and Will Snow. The social features of the evening included music by several of the talented guests.

Important Clearance Sale

OF ## SHOES

PARMENTER

THE SHOE MAN

To Make Room for the Finest Line of Spring Footwear Coming to Rockland

Child's $1.25 high cut, box calf Shoes, sizes 8 to 10-12, only 75c
 Child's $1.00 high button Over-Shoes, 7 to 10-12, 65c
 Men's $1.25 to $1.50 heavy Over-shoes, only 75c
 Misses' 75c Jersey Leggings, only 59c
 Ladies' Worsted and Felt Shoes At Cost
 Ladies' Rubbers, odd sizes, only 25c
 The remainder of our Ladies' damaged Slippers, per pair, only 15c
 Infants' soft soled Shoes, 10c

Foot of Limerock St. 421 MAIN ST.

Money Back If You Want It

Motor Cycles The new "Auto-Bi" has spring truss fork, three horse-power motor, perfect handie control, greatest power for weight of all motor bicycles. Send at once for free catalogue.

MOTOR CYCLE AGENCY BRUNSWICK, MAINE.

Anniversary

AND

RED LETTER DAY

AT

FULLER & COBB'S

THURSDAY, MARCH 3.

Will be our Eleventh Anniversary in this store and as has been our custom in the past, we wish the day to be one to be remembered by our customers, and in order to do so, we give each clerk the privilege of selecting one article to be sold at their own prices. All New Goods. Marked in plain figures. Regular and Red Letter Prices. Sale to commence at 8.15 A. M.

If any article is likely to be over sold, we take the order and furnish later. The last customer fares equally as well as the first.

Department A—Street Floor		Ladies' Black Lace Lis'e Hose		Umbrellas
Yama Mai Silk—All Colors		Clerk No. 12		Clerk No. 42
Regular Price		Regular Price		Regular Price
Red Letter		Red Letter		Red Letter
Seeded Cotton Voile and Cotton		White Linen Colored Embroidered		Sweaters—All Colors
Venus Cloth		Galeon—latest trim-		Clerk No. 32
Clerk No. 22		ming for Shirt Waist Cos-		Regular Price
Regular Price		tumes		Red Letter
Red Letter		Clerk No. 10		Wrist Bags
Novelty Wool Canvas		Regular Price		Clerk No. 40
Clerk No. 39		Red Letter		Regular Price
Regular Price		Red Letter		Red Letter
Red Letter		Department H—Street Floor		New Long Storm Veils
Red Letter		Men's Negligee Shirts		Clerk No. 24
Department C—Street Floor		Clerk No. 25		Regular Price
Print Wrappers		Regular Price		Red Letter
Clerk No. 15		Red Letter		Heavy Mannish Gloves
Regular Price		Red Letter		Clerk No. 38
Red Letter		Ladies' Fancy Vests—Low		Regular Price
Walking Skirts		Neck, Sleeveless		Red Letter
Clerk No. 16		Clerk No. 11		Department M—Down Stairs
Regular Price		Regular Price		Mercerized Waistings
Red Letter		Red Letter		Clerk No. 35
Silk Waists—Black and Colors		McGee Petticoats		Regular Price
Clerk No. 21		Clerk No. 19		Red Letter
Regular Price		Regular Price		Bed Spreads
Red Letter		Red Letter		Clerk No. 23
2 Piece Shirt Waist Suits		Corset Covers		Regular Price
Clerk No. 30		Clerk No. 27		Red Letter
Regular Price		Regular Price		Cotton Voiles
Red Letter		Red Letter		Clerk No. 17
White Muslin Shirt Waists		Department K—Street Floor		Regular Price
Clerk No. 33		Black Silk Belts with Buckle		Red Letter
Regular Price		Clerk No. 41		Department L—Up-stairs
Red Letter		Regular Price		A Ruffled Arabian Curtain
Women's Cloth, Rubber Lined		Plain Soft Taffeta Ribbon		Clerk No. 18
Rain Coats		Clerk No. 6		Regular Price
NEW ARTICLE		Regular Price		Red Letter
Clerk No. 28		Red Letter		All Wove Smyrna Rug-36x72
Regular Price		Canfield Shields		Clerk No. 29
Red Letter		Clerk No. 26		Regular Price
Department E—Street Floor		Red Letter		Red Letter
White Embroidered Muslin		Huribut's Stationery		Water Tumblers
Shirt Waist Fronts		Clerk No. 7		Clerk No. 37
Clerk No. 31		Regular Price		Regular Price
Regular Price		Red Letter		Red Letter
Red Letter		Red Letter		Red Letter

FULLER & COBB,

Syndicate Block, Rockland.

NORTH WALDOBORO

The rain of Monday has filled the streams and the mills are busy. W. J. Greenwood of East Jefferson was in this place one day last week. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stahl are spending a few days at Feyer's Corner visiting relatives.

George Oliver of Warren was a guest of his brothers, Llewellyn H. and Albert M. Oliver, last week.

Mrs. E. F. Stain of Feyer's Corner was in this place Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. A. Hoffses are housed with severe colds.

John Burnheimer visited his daughter, Mrs. Frank Davis of East Jefferson, Sunday.

Postmaster Burnheimer is confined to the house with a cold.

A Frances Willard memorial was held at the Methodist church last Sunday evening. The program consisted of an address by Rev. H. W. Collins, choir rendered recitations, etc. The select reading, recitations, etc. The select reading, recitations, etc. The select reading, recitations, etc.

Alden Burnheimer is hauling his pressed hay to the village.

CURES WITHOUT STOMACH DOSING

Hymel Cures Catarrh by Simple Breathing. W. H. Kittredge Refunds Money If It Fails To Cure.

A long stride towards solving the mystery of curing catarrh was taken with the discovery of Hymel. In fact, the percentage of cures by this treatment proves it equal to the final tests.

The folly of taking medicine into the stomach to cure catarrh of the nose, throat and lungs, has been realized by physicians, but not until Hymel was known, had they a practical method that would obviate stomach dosing.

A complete Hymel outfit costs but $1, and consists of a neat pocket inhaler that can be used anywhere without attracting attention, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hymel.

Breathing Hymel through the inhaler, every particle of air that enters the nose, throat and lungs, is charged with the healing balsam that soothes and allays all irritation, kills the catarrhal germs and enriches the blood with additional ozone.

For further particulars, apply to W. H. Kittredge, C. H. Pendleton and W. H. Kittredge.

Thomas Carroll, wife and daughter, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Carroll, Sunday.

We failed to get one mail last Monday the first time since the free rural service went into commission.

Fred Copeland has been at work this week with his gasoline machine sawing wood for E. B. Clark.

Harry Swift recently cut his leg quite badly while at work in the woods.

Bennie Carroll was the guest of friends here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Butler of Rockport visited Mrs. Butler's mother, Mrs. Benjamin Carroll, Sunday.

Will Dutton has moved his family to the Hayes house so-called.

FOR SALE—On account of death. Story and half house with all and stable, and good barn with goods, all in good condition. Sits on 20 acres, and a bargain for the right person. For further particulars, apply to W. D. STONE, Warren Highland, Warren, Maine.

In Their New Castle.

Georges River Lodge, Knights of Pythias Dedicates Hall At Warren—Notable Gathering.

EVER in the history of Pythianism has the true spirit of Friendship, Charity and Benevolence shed a brighter light on the noble brotherhood, and never has there been a more profitable, interesting and successful fraternal event, than that exhibited Wednesday evening within the portals of the new and magnificent Castle Hall of Georges River Lodge, No. 68, K. P., at Warren.

Out of their extreme generosity and noble spirit of Pythianism, the enterprising and warm-hearted members of this lodge, had extended invitations to seven lodges to be present with them on this night, the occasion being the formal dedication of their new hall. In response to this kind fraternal message nearly every lodge was represented in the grand assembly of Pythian Knights. Boothbay Lodge of Boothbay, Lincoln of Damariscotta, Arcana of Thomaston, Gen. Berry of Rockland, Camden of Camden, Maine of Waldoboro and Port Clyde of Port Clyde were those included in the list.

There were special cars from Camden and Rockland, these two places chase the lot and building belonging to the J. M. Studley estate, which was then for sale. Soon as the lodge gained possession of the property a building committee was appointed, composed of E. M. Stahl, L. C. Mathews, N. T. Caswell, G. F. Winslow, C. S. Coburn, W. B. Stickney and G. D. Gould, and they were authorized to contract for the construction of a new building according to plans and specifications drafted by Joseph Lockie and accepted by the lodge. The contract was awarded to John L. Stevens, who commenced the building Aug. 23, 1903. Bro. E. M. Stahl, chairman of the building committee and L. C. Mathews deserve the gratitude of this lodge for time and labor they have gratuitously given during the construction of the building from foundation to finish. The building and other property of the lodge is owned entirely by the K. P.'s and any indebtedness the lodge may have is not encumbered by a mortgage.

The furnishing of the elegant apartments which we now occupy has been done in part by the Rathbone Sisters. The piano and the larger part of the carpet being paid for by the sisters, who will share with us the enjoyment of our new home, and we trust the prosperity of the past will be continued and that there may be learned and exand Thomaston sending large delegations. About 50 went from each of the last two towns mentioned, and 25 from Camden.

Warren's New Knights of Pythias Building.

Georges River Lodge was present in full force, and likewise Crescent Temple of Rathbone Sisters, so that when the ceremonies opened at 8.30 there were about 400 persons in the hall.

THE GRAND OFFICERS.

Grand Chancellor Lyman K. McDougall of Boothbay was present, and the following acted in the capacity of grand officers during the ceremonies: Grand Chancellor, Lyman K. McDougall; Grand Vice Chancellor, Dr. W. J. Jameson, Thomaston; Grand Keeper of Records and Seals, A. A. Beaton, Rockland; Grand Master, J. S. W. Burpee, Rockland; Grand Master at Arms, W. E. Vinal, Thomaston; Grand Marshal, Guard, R. O. Wade, Warren, Grand Outer Guard, Clayton Russell, Warren.

At this hour everything being in readiness the exercises: Music by Crescent Temple; benediction; the meeting being called to order by Past Chancellor Broadman. Miss Hattie Stevens presided at the piano. Following was the order of the exercises: Music by Crescent Temple; benediction; the meeting being called to order by Past Chancellor Broadman. Miss Hattie Stevens presided at the piano. Following was the order of the exercises: Music by Crescent Temple; benediction; the meeting being called to order by Past Chancellor Broadman. Miss Hattie Stevens presided at the piano.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

The address of A. A. Beaton occupied about 20 minutes, and was a most able, interesting and well delivered speech, in which he embodied much information relative to the early and present history of the order, the speaker stating in his opening remarks that this hall is dedicated to an order which claims to have a mission to the world. The address showed careful and thoughtful preparation and received high commendation.

emplified more perfectly the principles of Friendship, Charity and Benevolence.

G. D. Gould, Historian.

THE SPEECH-MAKING.

The Courier-Gazette goes into a larger number of families in Knoxville.